

EIT TERMINATION OF ENROLMENT INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

GROUNDS FOR TERMINATION OF ENROLMENT

Unsatisfactory Academic Progress	Unsatisfactory Attendance	Academic Integrity Breach	Unacceptable Behaviour
All students are required to make satisfactory academic progress towards the successful completion of their programme of study.	All international students are required to achieve satisfactory attendance as a condition of their student visa.	All students are responsible for acquainting themselves with EIT's expectations and standards with regard to academic integrity breach, as well as EIT's definition of dishonest practice in assessment and the relevant penalties.	All students must comply with the EIT Student Code of Conduct and all New Zealand laws while on campus or engaged in any learning activity that is part of their programme of study.
Students who fail more than 50% of their courses in a year or who have failed the same course on two occasions will be automatically removed from their programme of study and their enrolment at EIT will be terminated.	International students with excessive non-attendance will be removed from their programme of study and their enrolment at EIT will be terminated. This can only occur through the Formal Attendance Warning Procedure where students are given one verbal and two written warnings prior to termination of enrolment.	Students who commit serious or repetitive academic integrity breach (Level 3 or higher) will be removed from their programme of study and their enrolment at EIT will be terminated.	Students who violate the EIT Student Code of Conduct or breach New Zealand laws while on campus or engaged in any learning activity that is part of their programme of study could be removed from their programme of study and their enrolment at EIT will be terminated. The disciplinary consequence is determined by the severity of the breach by the student.

IMPORTANT NOTES

A student whose enrolment at EIT is terminated for any reason outlined in this table will not be eligible for a refund of their tuition fees for the programme of study in which they were enrolled.

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

Failure to comply with EIT Policies and Procedures could result in suspension of access to EIT services, such as the library and computer networks, temporary suspension from programme of study, or termination of enrolment. If a student's enrolment is terminated, Immigration New Zealand will be informed, and the student's visa will be cancelled.
